On the 15 Sept. 1883 I called on Miss Mary C. Noyes⁶, who is a descendant of Rev. James Noyes¹. She lives in the same house that he built in about 1645, and the same house where Rev. Thomas Parker lived with said Noyes' family. I was shown over the house which is two stories high, and saw some wooden dishes, a table and chair once used by said Noyes and Parker. I also saw some very old crockery dishes; Rev. James Noyes' diary which he kept while living; also some old deeds and papers. The first brick fireplace was still in the house. Some of the rooms had the first plastering ever put on to them, and some of the rooms had been replastered. That house is now (1895) still standing. Rev. Thomas Parker was the first pastor of the first Congregational church in Newbury. He was never married.—I. SMITH ADAMS⁸.

HILLS FAMILY.

FIRST AND SECOND GENERATIONS.

Mr. Joseph Hills¹, a man of distinction in the early history of this country, came, as I am informed, from Shrewsbury, England. (Savage says he came from Malden, in Essex, England.) His original name was Hill, but to distinguish his family from the large number of families named Hill, he added the letter s to his name. Since that time all his descendants have borne the name of Hills. Mr. Joseph Hills was representative from Malden, and speaker of the house in 1647. He was also a representative from Malden from 1650 to 1656. In 1648 he was appointed, by the court with Mr. Edward Rawson, to compare the amendments of the books of laws passed, and make them as one, and one of them to remain in the hands of the committee for the speedy committing of them to the press. In consequence of his labors in compiling and preparing the laws he was exempted from paying taxes for the last five years of his life. From his will I make the following extracts: "My will further is that for the good of the inhabitants of Newbury there be the sum of forty shillings in money paid into the hands of Capt. Daniel Pierce, or such other person as the town shall appoint, towards the procuring of a good bell for the meeting-house, or such other as shall be built for the better comfort of the inhabitants, provided the said inhabitants shall make it up to the sum of thirty pounds within three years after my decease. Also I give my wife my great testament, my book of martyrs and new warming pan; three excellent articles, and rather more consistent with each other than my great bible, my fowling piece and negro boy Tom.—Joshua Coffin's History of Newbury pages 393 and 394.

Joseph Hills¹ was born 1602; came to New England 1638; was in Charlestown 1639; thence to Malden from 1647 to 1656; thence to Newbury. He married first, Rose —— she died 24 March 1650;

HISTORY.

V. CHARLES ADAMS⁷ was born and educated in Newburyport. He began to learn the cooper's trade with his father, IV. Smith Adams⁶, in about 1819. He married II. Sarah Noyes in 1826 and resided in part of David Hart's house on Franklin street till June 1828, when he moved into the two-story house in the court at the head of Franklin street, and lived there till his death in 1877. He served about seven years to learn his trade which he worked at more or less during his life. He and his wife were members of the Federal street church where Rev. Mr. Proudfit, Rev. Mr. Stearns and Rev. Mr. Vermilye and others, have been pastors of that church. They were married by the Rev. Charles William Milton who was pastor of the Prospect street church for about forty-three years. They lived together more than fifty years. I, I. Smith Adams⁸, was their first child, and I remember when they had never owned a cook stove but used a brick fireplace and brick oven for heat and cooking purposes. I remember the andirons, crane and pothooks, the Dutch oven or bake-kettle, also the spider, skillet, and tea kettle. Near the fireplace stood the fire shovel and tongs, and nearby were hanging the bellows. On the mantel shelf were candles in brass candlesticks; also the snuffers and tray. A tin kitchen was used for roasting meats or fowl. The coffee was roasted over the fire in a kettle and ground in a coffee mill, which was held between the knees and turned with a crank. A flint, steel, tinder box, and a shaving that had been dipped in melted brimstone were the utensils used in making a fire in the morning. At this time there was no clock in the house, and we depended on my father's watch for the time. Afterward a clock was procured which is still, in 1895, in the house and keeping good time. He was the father of nine children, four boys and five girls, all of whom except the three oldest girls are, in 1895, still living.

His wife, II. Sarah Noyes, was born in Newbury; (that part of Newbury is now Newburyport.) She was early an orphan. Her mother died when she was about six years old. Both of her parents were dead when she was about twelve years old. She lived with her aunt Parker (who afterward married Mr. Greenough) in Bradford, till she was fourteen years of age; then in Jacob Perley's family in Byfield till eighteen, then in Mr. Edmund Swett's family on the south-westerly side of Spring street, Newburyport till she was twenty-three, when she was married to my father, V. Charles Adams, in 1826.

I. SMITH ADAMS⁸, who m. Mary Saunders Stevens of Bangor, Me., and I. Ellen Jane Wilson³ of Milltown, Calais, Me., was the first child of V. Charles Adams⁷ and II. Sarah Noyes. He was born in Newburyport, Mass., in 1828, and was educated mostly in the private and public schools in that place. The first school he attended was in 1831, beginning in the month of May. It was taught by widow Mary M. Cheever, who afterwards married I. Aaron Bray Adams⁷, merchant. The school was kept upstairs in a building at the foot of South (now Bromfield) street, on the north corner of the street. Mr. Adams received his education under the following named teachers, all of Newburyport: Mrs. Cheever, Miss Woodbury, Mrs. Haskell, Miss Campbell, Mr. Titcomb, Newman Brown, Mr. Bradbury and Charles C. Dame, who has since then been mayor of Newburyport. He also at one time attended school at the Rocks village, Haverhill, Mass. The last school he attended was under the instruction of Rev. David B. Byther in Steuben, Me.

The first death in his father's family was that of his sister, II. Hannah⁸, who was accidentally burned by her clothes taking fire 24 January, 1833. He was the only one present except his sister, III. Sarah who was a baby asleep in the cradle, and being less than five years of age he was not able to extinguish the flames. She died 3 March, 1833. This fearful scene made an impression on him which he has never forgotten. In the winter of 1838 he visited his uncle Samuel Noyes, comb maker, at Rocks village, Haverhill, and attended school while there. He visited Boston for the first time the 26th of June, 1843, and remained there eight or nine months being a part of that time in the employ of Charles A. Morss, wire worker, at No. 11 Summer street; four doors from Washington street. As Mr. Morss and his brother were not married at this time he boarded with them at their widowed mother's on High street. She was a great aunt to I. Smith Adams⁸. In 1844 he returned to Newburyport and was engaged in different employments, among which was clock work, with Mr. Jesse Dorman, clockmaker and repairer, whose shop was in the court at the head of Franklin street. It being pleasant and natural for him to do that kind of work he soon became interested in and acquainted with the business. In the month of June 1848 he visited Bangor, Maine, with his future first wife Mary Saunders Stevens, who had been visiting Newburyport, and was now returning to her friends in Bangor. They were m. 16 Oct. 1848, and after returning to Newburyport boarded at Mr. Bennett's on Inn street until about June, 1849, when they went to housekeeping for the first time in a part of Alexander's block on Pleasant street. In the fall of 1849 they moved to Bangor and Mr. Adams established himself in the clock business; the 10th of Nov. 1849, at 4 1-2 Exchange street, up stairs nearly opposite the Penobscot Exchange coffee house, which was kept by

Abram Woodard. He then had a sign painted and put up that all might know his place of business. Their first child, I. Laura Jane Adams⁶, was born in Bangor on Saturday, 2d March, 1850. As his business increased he saw that it was necessary to record all the clocks he repaired so that he could refer to them afterward if he wished to; therefore on the 24th of Dec. 1850, he began to record every clock he repaired in a book procured for the purpose, and is still continuing now (1895) to record all the clocks he repairs. He has kept a list of all the clocks he has sold for a number of years. On the 23 of January, 1857 while visiting Steuben, Maine, he was induced by E. W. Cleaves and E. L. Moore to remain with them a few weeks and spend the time in studying those branches in which they were most deficient. His business not being very pressing just then he concluded to do so, and immediately engaged rooms for the purpose at George G. Cleaves' house where they all boarded. Books, slates, pens, pencils, ink, paper, and all things necessary were procured, and the time was spent in studies as intended till the 8th of April. While at Steuben I. Smith Adams was a member of the Lyceum and debating club. On the 2d of June, 1859, he began to collect and record the History and Genealogy of the Newbury Adams family, being the descendants of Robert Adams¹ of Newbury, formerly of Devonshire, England, and now has (1895) a sufficient amount of information for the publication of a book. On the 28th of March, 1860, he bought a horse, carriage and harness which he used in his business a number of years then sold to other parties. The 26th of Dec., 1861, he was initiated into St. Mark's Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons at Newburyport, and was raised to the sublime degree of a master mason in that lodge. On Jan. 27, 1862, while visiting Oldtown, Me., the Roman Eagle degree was conferred on him in the Star in the East Lodge in that place. In the summer of 1864 he visited Calais, and among others became acquainted with William H. Tyler, formerly of Newburyport. Mr. Tyler had been mayor of Calais, and was now keeping a store. Mr. Tyler being interested in Mr. Adams and being acquainted with the family to which he belonged, gave him a written certificate dated 12 July, 1864, stating that he was born and brought up in the same place that Mr. Adams was, and gave him such recommendations as are pleasing and appreciated. This certificate is now (1895) in possession of I. Smith Adams⁸. He also became acquainted with I. Ellen Jane Wilson of Milltown, Maine, to whom he was published the 31st of August by John Jackson, printer and city clerk, and to whom he was married for his second wife the 6th of Sept., 1864 by Rev. Henry V. Dexter, Baptist minister. After boarding a few weeks at her mother's in Milltown he received a call from Fairbanks and Co. of St. John, N. B., to come and take charge of their clock establishment on Germain street in that city. He and wife went to St. John the 24th of Oct., 1864, and boarded a few weeks at Mrs. Elliott's on Germain street, opposite Trinity church, Rev. Mr. Gray, pastor. On 14 Dec., 1864, they went to housekeeping in one of

William Thompson's houses on St. David's street, where they lived while in St. John. During Mr. Adams' stay in St. John he became acquainted with many of the influential citizens of that place, among whom were VIII. William H. Adams⁷, Dr. Alward the mayor, J. Chaloner, druggist, Rev. Mr. Deveber, Thomas H. Keohan and others. I. Smith Adams' second child (first by second wife) was II. Smith Adams⁸, born in St. John 19 May, 1865, died 19 Aug. 1856, aged 15 months. On the 21st June, 1866, after carrying on the clock establishment for nearly two years and wishing to live in the United States again, he resigned his position at Fairbanks & Co.'s clock establishment. The next day Dr. Alward, mayor of St. John, presented Mr. Adams with a written certificate of recommendation, etc. This certificate was signed by A. Alward, M. D., mayor of St. John, John Crawford, hotel keeper, E. J. Kenedy, grocer, L. N. Williams, professor of music, John D. Short, 25 King street, Thos. H. Maloney, tailor, J. Chaloner, druggist, corner King and Germain streets. This certificate is now (1895) in possession of I. Smith Adams⁸. Immediately after his resignation he had a call from T. H. Keohan to take charge of a clock establishment he was about commencing on the same street near Fairbanks' clock establishment, but not wishing to remain in St. John, only till October, declined the offer. As Mr. Keohan desired his services he at last concluded to render his services till he was ready to leave for the United States: therefore he resigned the 3rd of Oct., 1866, according to the above understanding. On the 4th of Oct. Mr. Adams and wife took the boat for Calais and Milltown, Me. He then concluded to carry on the clock business at Milltown; therefore on the 10th of October, 1866, he rented part of the building known as the Cutter house, once owned by Mr. Gates, and set up that known as the Milltown Clock Establishment, which is still (1895) carried on by him in the same building which he afterward purchased on the 20th of April, 1868. This building was built in 1834 by Mr. Gates. Mr. Adams had one boy born while living in St. John who died there the 19th of Aug. 1866, aged 15 months. He has had four boys, all born in the same house at Milltown, between the years of 1866 and 1876 inclusive. On the 22nd Oct., 1867, he began and wrote a small book containing the number of cogs in the verge wheels, and the lengths of pendulum rods of nearly every clock both rare and in common use, by which the length of a pendulum could be determined for almost any clock. On the 27th of April, 1874, Mr. Adams began to keep and write a regular diary, which he has continued to the present time (1895) and still continues the same. After commencing this diary he regretted that he had not kept one years before, and wishing to have one beginning in 1831, his earliest recollections, laid the following plan to collect for the same, viz: to look over his school books, business and other books, papers, bills, letters, also to consult his own memory and write in diary form all things of importance: so that now he has a diary of some kind from 1831 to 1895, which he still continues. In the fall of 1876 he visited the town of Bluehill, Me., and on the 16th of Sept. he ascended Bluehill mountain for the third time, having done so twice before in years gone by. Before ascending he procured a bottle and wrote a few lines concerning the event which he placed in the bottle and hid it under a rock on the top of the mountain. It is not known that the bottle has ever been found. The 7th of July, 1878, Mr. Adams made a public profession of religion, and became connected with the First Congregational church in Milltown, N. B., of which he is still a member in 1895. Rev. J. P. Pond was pastor at the time. He is also a member of the Sunday school connected with that church. In 1886 Mr. Adams constructed a twenty-four hour dial clock; and as far as he knew it was the first one of the kind ever constructed. There are twenty-four figures on the dial. The outer dial circle is divided into sixty parts representing minutes. The inner circle into ninety-six parts representing quarter hours. The minute hand goes round once every hour; the hour hand once in twenty-four hours. It has a pendulum and weights, and was first set going the 16th of Jan., 1886. At first it was arranged to strike one every hour, but afterward Mr. Adams arranged it to strike as follows: at twenty-four o'clock (midnight) it strikes twenty-four times on a metal bell. From one to six it strikes the regular hours. After six to eleven o'clock it strikes two each hour. At twelve (noon) twelve times. After twelve till twenty-four once each hour. At twenty-four o'clock twenty-four times, and so on. The Calais Times and St. Croix Courier both speak of this clock. On Nov. 2, 1886, I. Smith Adams^s was initiated into the St. Croix Chapter of Masons, at Calais, and on Feb. 15, 1887, he was exalted to the august degree of a Royal Arch Mason in the same Chapter. On the 13th of October, 1887, he was initiated into the St. Croix Council of Royal and Select Masters, at Calais, and on the 10th of Jan., 1889, he received the degree of Super Excellent Master. He has several times been chosen by the church one of the delegates to represent the church at the yearly county conventions. He was also chosen a delegate to a council at Eastport, which was holden on the 29th and 30th of November, 1892, for the purpose of ordaining and installing Mr. Charles Sumner Holton as pastor of the Congregational church at Eastport, Me. He has also several times represented, with others, the St. Croix Lodge, No. 46, of Masons, at their yearly district conventions which are holden alternately at the different Lodges throughout that Masonic district. He has also held several offices at different times in the several Masonic Lodges to which he belongs. On the 9th Nov. 1891, Mr. Adams in company with other members and officers of St. Croix Masonic Council, took the cars for Presque Isle to assist and constitute a council in that place, and on Nov. 10th the Aroostook Council of Royal and Select Masters No. 16, was constituted. This is the first as well as the only Masonic Council in Aroostook county. The names of those who went from Calais to constitute this council were as follows: Dr. D. E. Seymour, principle officer; Alexander Milligan, past master; Moses Tait, past master;

Smith Adams, chaplain; Mr. Stevens, Thomas Brown, Mr. Hutchings and Mr. Côle.

Mr. Adams is very much interested in the church and Sunday school to which he belongs, and is also interested in Masonry; and he has visited many Lodges during his travels.

Mr. Adams' first wife Mary S. Stevens, was the third child of Capt. Moses Stevens and Phimelia Saunders. Mr. Stevens has lived in Guildford and Orland. He lived in Bangor as early as 1846 or before. He was a very pleasant, exemplary, pious man, and a good peaceful citizen.

His second wife, Ellen Jane Wilson, was the first child of James and Catharine Wilson. She was born at Richmond, N. B. After her father's death, in 1861, the family moved to Milltown, Maine, in 1863, where they lived till after she was married to Mr. Adams. Mr. Wilson was a member of an Orange Lodge.

II. HANNAH S. ADAMS⁸ was the second child of V. Charles Adams⁷ and II. Sarah Noyes. She was very unfortunate in being fearfully burned in 1833 by her clothes taking fire. This same winter a small sheet iron stove had been put up to warm the room. She took some cooper's shavings from a closet under the stairs in the back room to rekindle the fire, which had probably gone down. She lighted a shaving as she was sitting on the floor in front of the stove and dropped it in her lap. The fire was soon communicated to every part of her clothing so that she was fearfully burned. She died in five weeks and three days afterward. At the time of this event I was less than five years of age, and my sister III. Sarah⁸ was a baby asleep in the cradle in the same room. As my mother had gone out for a few moments I was the only one present to remember this sad event; and I have often thought of it all through my life.

III. SARAH E. ADAMS⁸ was the third child of V. Charles Adams⁷ and II. Sarah Noyes. She was married to Thomas J. Spinney, carpenter, of Portsmouth, N. H., when she was about twenty-one years of age. They lived on the easterly side of Bridge street, Portsmouth, for a number of years; then Mr. Spinney built for himself a substantial two story house on Christian Shore, Portsmouth, where they lived till they died. She died in 1860, leaving a husband and three children, the youngest only nine days old, and a large circle of friends to mourn her loss. Her oldest child I. Emma Stone Spinney⁹, soon followed her. She died in 1863 aged 8 years, 8 months. After III. Sarah's⁸ death Mr. Spinney employed his sister Ellen to keep house for him till 31 Dec., 1861, when he married Sarah A. Witham by whom he had three children, viz: Arthur H., Bertha A., and Thomas Dana. He died 6 March, 1878, aged 48 years, 1 month.

IV. CHARLES AARON ADAMS⁸ was the fourth child of V. Charles Adams⁷ and II. Sarah Noyes. Between one and three years of age he was taken very sick and was so low that the best physicians in Newburyport, among whom were Dr. Johnson and Dr. Spofford, supposed he would never recover, and were surprised when he did. This so weakened the system that he never became sufficiently strong to do much labor, or carry on business. He has never married but lived with his parents while they were living; since which he has lived in his brother IX. Amos⁸ family.

V. HARRIET DUTTON ADAMS⁸ was the fifth child of V. Charles Adams⁷ and II. Sarah Noyes. She was a pretty child of good form, medium size, black eyes and dark hair, and good disposition. Her health was quite good till fifteen years of age, when it began to fail, and although several physicians were consulted and everything done for her recovery it proved a failure, and she grew worse till she was a little more than twenty-five years of age, when she died unmarried; and lamented by a large circle of friends and acquaintances. She was buried at the side of her sister II. Hannah⁸ in the graveyard near the Oldtown meeting house which was afterward destroyed by fire.

VI. ESTHER LEE ADAMS⁸ was the sixth child of V. Charles Adams⁷ and II. Sarah Noyes. She was married to William R. D. Mansfield of Salem, Mass., in 1866, and went to Salem to live; and resided on Mill street for a number of years. She then moved to a house near the railroad tunnel, but now lives at No. 7 Howard street. She has never had any children. She carries on the dress-making business. Her husband was formerly a mate of a ship and understood navigation, but later he devoted his time to the carpenter business. He did some repairs in 1881 and 1884 to Amos H. Adams' house in Newburyport. He was sick some time before his death. He died Nov. 18, 1890, aged 68 years, 4 months, 17 days.

VII. MARY SWEET ADAMS³ was the seventh child of V. Charles Adams⁷ and II. Sarah Noyes. She was married to Joseph Haslam, boiler maker, of Salem, Mass., formerly of Manchester, England, in 1868. She had one child, I. Alice B.⁹, who is married. VII. Mary's⁸ husband died in 1870. She continued to reside in Salem for awhile, after which she lived in Portsmouth, N. H. Afterward she moved to Newburyport and built a two story house on Purchase street, near Marlborough street, in the front of which she keeps a dry goods store. Her daughter, Alice Browning, married William D. Ford, 27 April, 1884.

VIII. DANIEL WEBSTER ADAMS⁸ was the eighth child of V. Charles Adams⁷ and II. Sarah Noyes. He married Mariam W. Spinney, of Portsmouth, N. H., in 1869. He took a notion to go to sea at an early age and went on his first voyage in the ship Crown Point, bound to Bombay. He went other voyages for a while, but after he married he left off going to sea. He now (1895) lives in Portsmouth, N. H., at No. 11 Penhallow street, and has been employed some of the time in the navy yard at Kittery, and some of the time in the carpenter business. They have no children living.

IX. AMOS HENRY ADAMS⁸, who married Cynthia C. Dunn of Franklin, Maine, was the ninth child of V. Charles Adams⁷ and II. Sarah Noyes. At one time he was engaged in the express business. Afterward (1882) he was book-keeper in Mr. Ross' spice mills; and now is salesman for that concern. He lives on Franklin street, at the homestead which his parents occupied when living. The homestead has been enlarged and repaired, and a cellar under the whole of it in 1892.

I. LAURA JANE ADAMS⁹ who married Augustus H. Sutherland and Nahum D. Lander, was the first child of I. Smith Adams⁸ and first wife Mary S. Stevens. She was born in Bangor, Me., in 1850; married to Mr. Sutherland in 1866 and to Mr. Lander in 1872. By the first husband she had two children, and by the second husband nine children. She has lived in Greene, and now (1895) lives in Auburn, Me.

II. SMITH ADAMS⁹ was the second child of I. Smith Adams⁸ and second wife Ellen Jane Wilson. He was born in St. John, N. B., in 1865. He was taken sick in the summer of 1865, just after being weaned, with summer complaint; and was teething also. After much suffering he died on Sunday afternoon at three o'clock, 19 Aug. 1866 aged just fifteen months. He was buried in St. John Tuesday afternoon 21 Aug., 1866. The Rev. Mr. Deveber attended the funeral.

III. SMITH ADAMS⁹ was the third child of I. Smith Adams⁸ and second wife Ellen Jane Wilson. He was born and educated in Milltown, Me., and married Eliza Hand of Richmond, N. B., the 6th of Jan. 1892. He began early to do business. When a boy he kept shop in part of his father's wood-house, selling confectionery, and bought rags and old iron. He then bought the dwelling house and two stores nearly opposite his father's house. He kept store in one and rented the other to Mr. Hutchinson for a drug store. He also rented the house to different families. He next purchased the house on the westerly side next to his father's house. This property he has paid for in full. Since then he has left off keeping store and rented both stores. He is now (1895) a motorman on one of the electric cars. A while ago he sold to Mr. McMann the dwelling house on the opposite side of the street. They have one child L. Estella¹⁰.

IV. CHARLES ADAMS⁹ was the fourth child of I. Smith Adams⁸ and second wife Ellen Jane Wilson. He was born and educated in Milltown, Me. He at one time was employed in George S. Staples' grocery store. Afterward he went to Massachusetts and other places to work. At present he is not engaged in any particular business. He probably will resume business very soon.

V. GEORGE ADAMS⁹ was the fifth child of I. Smith Adams⁸ and second wife Ellen Jane Wilson. He was born and educated in Milltown, Me. When quite young he was employed in the lumber mills at Milltown. Then he was employed in G. S. Staples' grocery store. While there he became lame, and resigned, and for a while went on crutches. Before being cured of this lameness he was employed by the Hon. J. S. Clark to carry on a shoe store, and do the buying and selling of the different articles kept in that store, consisting of boots, shoes, rubbers, hats, caps, umbrellas, and other goods. He has been entirely cured of his lameness for a year or more.

VI. ROBERT ADAMS⁹ was the sixth child of I. Smith Adams⁸ and second wife Ellen Jane Wilson. He was born and educated in Milltown, Me. He has not as yet engaged in any kind of business.

ANNIE WILSON was born and educated in Milltown, Me. She began to live in the family of I. Smith Adams⁸ Oct. 30, 1868. She was born July 25, 1856. She is the fourth generation from her first American ancestors who came from Donegal County, Ireland, to the Province of New Brunswick in about 1822.
